1991 TROPHY WINNERS

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

It is my honour to present the 1991 Annual Report. The Profit and Loss Account and Balance Sheet show again this year that Colleagues is in good shape financially. Being in good shape does not happen by accident. The direction was clearly set this year as with the previous two years by the senior office bearers. This culminated with the energy of the general committee and particularly the Bar Managers (as usual) resulted in more than acceptable trading figures and an ever increasing Total Members' Fund amount.

Socially, we did not miss many opportunities. The Ball at the SCG was a memorable night and I encourage all Old Colleagues to have at least one late night out with us in 1992.

The Clubhouse has been painted inside and plenty of repairs and maintenance has been completed not changing the old characteristics of the Club in any way.

The crowds at the home games this year were consistently larger than any year I can remember. Players were wearing the right gear and Club members in Colleagues pullovers, ties and caps added to the great Saturday atmosphere.

On the playing field, our results did not equal the enormous effort of the players and coaches. The commitment to turn 1991 great games into 1992 great winning games has been made by one and all.

Congratulations to the Trophy Winners and, again this year....

It's great being a Colleague!

CLUB CAPTAIN'S REPORT

1991 began with the Club full of potential and expect a good season on the Rugby paddock. At the end of the year, we could say that despite not reaching the heights we had hoped, it was a successful season in so much as it set the foundations for the Club for the next two to three years. It was the work of the coaches and their support staff that was the most pleasing aspect of the year.

We welcomed Hugh Taylor and Bruce Malouf down to Blue Giant Park as the Kentwell coaches. Hugh, who has had a close association with the Club for a number of years, inspired his players and other coaches with his dedication and commitment. Together with Bruce, they set the whole Club up at the start of the season, developing a style of football that was both attractive to watch and enjoyable to play. The adjustment process took longer than intended but the players stuck to their guns and their success in the second round of the competition reflected this. Bruce was a revelation to many of us. One is reminded of the first sighting of him in late January at North Bondi in his shiggo's and not much else. It was not an attractive sight and we all looked forward to the onset of winter. Emotion runs high in Bruce and it is probably something the Club needed and we all appreciated his involvement both on the paddock and in the Clubhouse (need we say any more).

There were a large number of players who played in Kentwell which reflected the evenness of ability in the Club. It probably did not help us in the first round but I believe we started to get the right combination towards the end. Congratulations to Damian Kelly and Rick Hou in their roles as Captains and Dog Poolman for another outstanding year which saw him win Club Best and Fairest.

Burke Cup did not have a great year and was probably hurt by the constant changes in Kentwell as well as the obligatory injuries and absences. Tony Kent, in his second year as coach, again got the most out of his players. When you play Burke Cup, there is a special feeling, and 'Rag' had a great deal to do with that. We look forward to better things next year. Tim Cullen should be thanked for his leadership and Scott Gray Spencer for being the best and fairest player.

Whiddon Cup is on the fast track towards it's first success since the later 1960's. Brian Wood and Peter 'Kanga' Coloquhoun gathered the many players available and moulded a very strong, committed team. Their second round results were impressive to say the least, with a very mobile forward pack and a strong running back line. Next year, this side could go all the way and Woodsie and Kanga should be congratulated for their efforts. Joe Distaso and Phil Cummins skippered throughout the year and Sean Heath was the best and fairest as well as the Club's Most Improved Player. (Sean was also the most pissed at the trophy night.)

Judd was our most successful team of the year. A classic mix of youth and experience, this side came second in the competition, only to bow out in the finals due to an unfortunate loss of players to injury and ineligibility. Under the auspices of George Blackwood and Angus Playfair, Judd was kept extremely fit throughout the year which ensured some memorable victories being snatched from the jaws of defeat. Doug Ambrose was captain and again showed he is a class player with astute kicking and solid running. Adam Tilley should also be thanked for not passing the ball and thereby winning the award for the most tries for the Club.

Sutherland Cup was an on-again off-again affair, but when it was on, the team was successful. Under the cool head of Pete Sofianos, 5th grade scored some memorable wins.

In the Clubhouse, Chris Knight and Andrew Wade were the solid rock behind the bar, while Cobby and Daniel Storch organised some great functions. Thanks to all the general committee, and especially Stuart Hunter. Squiggle handled the jersey convenor's role as well as one could and was a great support to myself throughout the year.

Overseeing the whole picture were David Gooch, Steve Roberts and Tom Fraser keeping the Club in good shape and I thank Steve and Tom in particular for the constant support and advice throughout the year. Steve was recognised by the Club for his achievements with the John Anderson Trophy.

I look forward to 1992 as the year in which the labours of 1991 are justifiably rewarded.

Club Captain

KENTWELL CUP 1991

What a start! Nobody could figure out where we were going wrong. We thought we had the expertise and we were confident we had the players. Many a Saturday would arrive with Bruce, Sean and myself sure that we had the right combination and had prepared too well for any side to match us. Of course it was not to be. The bounce of the ball, a rough decision etc. etc. Many things went against us. In any season there are inevitably many 'what ifs?', but I think the main lessons to be learned out of this season are firstly, too never take anything for granted, the obvious example of this is – we have Bruce Malouf on our coaching panel so we will wipe everybody aside we play. Secondly, players good, bad or whatever must be happy and prepared to play football for Colleagues for the season. Rugby particularly in 'subbies' should be good fun and relaxing. The pure fact is though, the standard of competition is quite strong and to win or at least be competitive sacrifices have to be made. That doesn't mean we lose the fun element out of the game but surely the greatest enjoyment is winning and setting yourself goals over a season both personally and as a team.

We had three captains through the season. Hugh McFarlane started out and eventually led the backs for the year. Hugh's dedication and application is fantastic, his defense is second to none and he never whinges or complains – he just gets stuck in and does the job.

Damien Kelly was our captain for most of the first round until he was forced out through that obligation to enter the institution of holy matrimony. No, it's a wonderful thing – marriage, it's just a rugby coach's mid season nightmare! I hope Kell's is back next year because he is the type of player who sets an example and when his mind is focused there are few better players around.

Rick Howe was captain for the second half of the year and it is a credit to him that this was our most successful section of the season. His own play and application improved incredibly with the captaincy and he proved to be a very good leader.

Our front row was one of the best weapons all year, largely due to the tireless work by Tommy Fraser who is another player coaches enjoy because he puts in a 100% in every area. The other propping position was shared a bit but Dean Clarke probably occupied it the most. Deano, another coaches nightmare – great bloke, means well and gives plenty on the field but punctuality is not his long suit. The only good thing about Dean's punctuality is that it got Bruce Malouf back on the paddock, well Dean and a bottle of white wine did, and it was great even if for only a short visit.

Second rowers – we were blessed. I have already mentioned Kell's the two other were Andy Taylor and Mike Nelson. Not much can be said about Andy, anybody who came into contact with him whether in a playing capacity or social capacity would appreciate what a great bloke and tremendous asset to the club he was. Mike was definitely, in my opinion one of our best players, very strong in the air and extremely relaxed in a skulling race against the old master, Rag Kent. If he keeps practicing for another ten years Rag could be in strife.

The back row was dominated by Dog Poolman, Andrew Mackenzie-Wood and Hugh Warden. Mack and Dog are both great, committed tight players who seem to thrive when the going gets tough. Dog epitomizes a club like Colleagues – he really enjoys every aspect of the game and the club. It would be very remiss of me not to thank Mack-Wood on behalf of the players for all the stitching and other medical duties he performed during the year. Hugh had a great year and I think, surprised himself with his fitness and general enthusiasm. He should, in fact think about another season because he still has plenty to offer to the club.

The forwards basically dominated all year. There was only the odd game where we were bettered. The backs were probably more up and down, seeming to lack confidence in the early games then gaining it midway through the year. I think in fairness to the club it is probably the area we must work on most in preparation for next year.

We had a couple of half's this year but once Dave Roberts appeared he was clearly the class half of the year. Thanks Dave, age shall not weary them, see you next year.

Will Kendall, our 5/8th proved he has a stack of ability and improved with every game. I hope Will sticks at it, with a bit more experience his natural game will be complemented by a better level of option taking. Hugh McFarlane, Cameron Rowntree and later in the season, Andy Campbell where our centre ¾'s for the season. Hugh, I have already spoken of, Cameron had a very impressive season mainly because he showed great application to training and the dividends really paid off. For a start he lost weight and even developed a little turn of pace, I'm sure if he hadn't been injured we might have even seen a side step! Andy was good to coach because he really wanted to play and that might sound silly but believe me, from a coach's point of view it means an awful lot. Andy is a good footballer and once we all settle on his natural position I think he will be even better.

Alex Irons played wing and fullback and played very well in both positions. He was a good find for the club as he was also a capable goal kicker. Alex had a bit of pressure on him in this area and really, after a couple of years off he did a great job. Rodger Garner played the last few games on the left wing and more than acquitted himself. Rodger proved that if you give players a go and they are prepared to take it, good footballers naturally appear. Matt Collett was our most versatile player. Matt is a great runner with the ball and if he was prepared to develop the other areas of his game he could go a long way in rugby. Scottie Gray Spencer was also a tremendous asset to the club for his experience and grasp of the game I hope to see you there in the back row next year.

David Cobcroft was our right winger all year. Cobby had overall a good year however, from a coaching point of view he is impossible and I speak here on behalf of Bruce, Sean and myself. I am sure he was sent from somewhere just to antagonize us all year. It is not that he is an irresponsible person it is just that he is a nightmare waiting to happen and it did. I stared in disbelief down the paddock in the last five minutes of the last game when Cobby appeared to have backed Riverview to win. Cobby was not phased and simply explained that John Keirwen also got a bad bounce (nice comparison Cobby)! If you think I have been too hard on him, you're right, but after all he deserves it!

Finally a mountain of thanks to Sean Swift who is not only a good coach but also a great support for me throughout these fairly lengthy seasons – cheers mate. Bruce Malouf, who I hardly knew at the start of the year and became a great friend. Many, many thanks for making the season so much more enjoyable through your humour and wonderful good nature. Your experience and ideas where of enormous benefit not only to the players but also to Sean and myself. Thanks Bruce.

Toby, Steve, Goochy and all the committee, thanks for your support and positive attitude all year. Rag, Woodsie, Kanga, George and Gus a good year made possible by your enthusiasm – thanks fellas.

The 1992 season should be considered with great heart. We must be more determined in our goals now the foundation has been laid. Hopefully I will see you all next year.

Yours sincerely,
Hugh Taylor

BURKE CUP

Unlike previous years, the Burke Cup side started the season with three successive losses. Unfortunately the Kentwell Cup side started the season in the same fashion so both sides were trying to find some sort of combination so we could get some stability in the top two sides.

Mid season we started to dominate other sides with the forward pack and our back row combination became awesome. Unfortunately injury to players forced changes which in turn caused losses.

The season was highly enjoyable, however, very frustrating. The club has two very experienced first grade coaches in Bruce Malouf and Hugh Taylor, and both of them put their heart into the club without the success in which they deserved. For the club to be successful next year, the nucleus of the top two sides should play again, so the season can start where it finished off this year.

Without running through each individual player in the side, I would like to thank everybody who did play and the help which I received from Rob Pinn (our backs coach) and the two people who captained the side, Tim Cullen and Scott Gray Spencer.

The greatest attribute about Colleagues in 1991 was no matter how many losses we may have had, the spirit in the Club is the best I have seen in for years. I'm sure that will continue next year and I'm sure I will be part of it.

Tony Kent

WHIDDON CUP 1991

PLAYED 18      WIN 7      LOSS 8      DRAW 2

The 1991 Season was definitely one of two distinct halves.

The first round results reflected the club's dilemma – new players finding their feet, excessive injuries particularly to outside backs and adapting to a new style of play.

The efforts and pain of the first round were rewarded by the second round results, aside from one defeat by Newport. The "Whiddos" showed true guts, determination and developed great team work and spirit. The two highlights were an unbelievable defensive effort against Waverley whilst the attack clicked into place against Blue Mountains.

The pressure to win every game was on from game 10. As with 1990 a chance to make the semi's was still in the offering in game 17. But the lucky bounce of the ball, a disallowed try and a high penalty count put paid to the 1991 season.

Special mention must go to Joe Distaso, as Captain for his fearless leadership. Newcomer Sean Heath gained Best & Fairest Award. The front row – Pages, Drapes, Footie and Jimmy Barnes were outstanding all season.

The rest of the pack performed strongly in every match scoring the majority of the teams tries in the season.

Our backline was rock solid in defence all year but the attacking flair came with the introduction of Sean Corbett into the team.

Once again, Whiddon Cup produced its share of players for the higher grades.

Kanga and Woodsie thank all the players who produced for the team in 1991.

JUDD CUP

Summary

- Very successful season, winning 14 to finish second on comp. table behind Waverley
- Only two sides defeated 4th grade through the competition ie,

Waverley	1st round 12-3
	2nd round 10-4
Matraville	1st round 3-0
	2nd round 4-0, all small margins
- Points for 217, against 73
- 4th grade scored most tries @ 37 (of which Tilley scored 10) for the Club.
- For the majority of the season Rushy was team goal kicker scoring 54 points for the 4th grade blues.

Highlights of Games

- Last minute tries by Smith, Walton, Blackwood and Ambrose to snatch Victories against Newport, Forest, Blue Mountains and Newport (2nd round) respectively.
- Rush's kicking display at the Mountains.
- Seven try haul against Igies – last game of season.
- Buck Rodgers, John Ryans and Ian Hollands huge effort against St. Pats in second round to win the game with enormous scrummaging effort!!

Best Team Efforts

- Waverley second round, team was unfortunate not to get away with this one.

Difficult to single out individual players from the team for special mention, as each player performed well throughout season. However, mention must be made of the Captains, first part of season Andy Thorburn, later part of season D. Ambrose, certainly led team by example effort during the games.

It was a good season with great team performances and some spectacular finishes. Thanks to the above players, but also to Guillaume for some exhilarating runs and also to Squiggle and Anthony Brumitt who filled in any week, in any game, in any position, at a moments notice. I would like to thank everyone for putting up with the fitness and special thanks to Astro for running the sprints instead of Dougie!

Regards,

Tom Fraser
